Per E. Rui er først og fremst kjent for sin fantastiske norske myntsamling som vi fikk æren av å selge gjennom fire storslåtte auksjoner i 2022 og 2023. I tillegg til norsk numismatikk har Rui også hatt en stor lidenskap for internasjonal mynthistorie, og denne interessen har ført til en imponerende samling med antikke og utenlandske mynter. Samlingen strekker seg fra tidlige myntutgivelser i Lydia fra 560-tallet før Kristus, gjennom romertiden og middelalderen, og helt frem til moderne tid. Samlingen er konsentrert rundt myntutgivelser av stor historisk betydning, og med et fokus på kvalitet og estetikk som kun kan oppnås av en lidenskapelig samler. En betydelig del av samlingen er anskaffet gjennom kvalitetsauksjoner i USA fra slutten av 1990-tallet, og de siste årene har også Oslo Myntgalleri bidratt med mange viktige objekter til samlingen.

På de fire første Rui-auksjonene har mynter skiftet eier for over 40 millioner kroner, og vi antar at denne auksjonen vil omsette numismatiske sjeldenheter for ytterligere 10-12 millioner kroner. Auksjonen blir en flott avslutning på et samarbeid som vi har satt stor pris på.

Det er totalt 337 forskjellige objekter på denne auksjonen, og det er en samling med mange høydepunkter. La oss likevel trekke frem noen objekter som krever litt ekstra oppmerksomhet, og starte med objekt 443 som er en av de eldste myntene i samlingen, nemlig gullstateren fra kong Krösus av Lydia. Krösus var den første som fikk preget mynter i rent gull og sølv fra 550 tallet f.Kr., og han skal ha vært ufattelig rik. Hans rikdom var så stor at uttrykket «rik som en Krösus» fortsatt brukes i dag om svært velstående personer. Den greske avdelingen er rikholdig på mynter fra kjente bystater og konger hvor man kan sikre seg objekter fra fordums storheter som Kartago, Athen, Korint og ikke minst erobreren Alexander den store.

Auksjonen fortsetter med en sterk avdeling mynter fra den romerske republikken og borgerkrigen som etter hvert førte Roma over i keisertiden. Her finner vi en svært fin gruppe av mynter preget under diktatoren Julius Caesar, men også mynter av Brutus og Cassius som var hovedmennene bak mordet på Caesar i år 44 f.Kr. En særlig fascinerende mynt er objekt 538, en flott sølvdenar som bærer et portrettene av Kleopatra av Egypt og den romerske generalen og statsmannen Marcus Antoninus. Det mektige forbundet mellom dronningen av Egypt og den romerske generalen utfordret makteliten i Roma, men de gikk på et knusende nederlag i sjøslaget ved Actium i år 31 f.Kr. Roma innlemmet Egypt som provins i det voksende riket og keiser Augustus fikk preget en sølvdenar som feiret denne storslåtte seieren. Et nydelig eksemplar av denne denaren med inskripsjonen AEGVPTO CAPTA (Egypt er erobret) og en fint gravert nilkrokodille kommer som objekt 541 i katalogen. Fra romersk keisertid har vi mange sjeldne gullmynter (aurei), blant annet objekt 544 som er en svært sjelden aureus av Augustus, og kjent i to eksemplarer. Mynten stammer fra samlingen til grev Alessandro Magnaguti og ble solgt på auksjon hos Santamaria i Roma i 1949.

Per E. Rui

Auksjonen avsluttes med en avdeling utenlandske mynter, og her finner vi noen skikkelige perler i moderne mynthistorie. Objekt 654 er et nydelig eksemplar av en sølvgylden som ble preget i 1486 i dagens Østerrike under erkeherztugen Sigismund I av Tyrol. Dette regnes som den aller første taleren som noensinne ble preget, og den la grunnlaget for den verdensomspennende produksjonen av store sølvmynter slik som norske speciedalere, amerikanske dollar og britiske crowns. Rui har en særlig interesse for mynter fra de britiske øyer. Dette gjenspeiles i den innholdsrike avdelingen med mynter fra vikingtid, og videre gjennom noen imponerende gullmynter fra 1400 og 1500-tallet, og helt frem til den fantastiske gothic crown preget i 1847 under dronning Victoria.

Etter fire vellykkede auksjoner med norske mynter, er det en ære for oss i Oslo Myntgalleri å få lov til å selge denne spennende samlingen med numismatiske sjeldenheter fra øvrige deler av verden. Disse historiske objektene vil helt sikkert vekke stor begeistring både i Norge og utenlands. Dette er rett og slett en uhyre viktig begivenhet for oss, og som viser at Oslo Myntgalleri nok en gang hevder sin plass på den internasjonale auksjonsarenaen. Først av alt er det lidenskapen for mynthistorien og det brennende engasjementet hos samlerne gir oss ekstra energi til å kaste oss over den krevende prosessen med å lage en ny auksjon hvert halvår.

Velkommen til den femte og siste del av samlingen til Per E. Rui på Grand Hotel den 21. november!

1. Følgende auksjonsbetingelser gjelder for alle budgivere som deltar på auksjonene til Oslo Myntgalleri AS. Ved å avgi bud så forplikter man seg til å følge auksjonsreglement. Auksjonen er offentlig og frivillig. Hvis ikke annet er opplyst vil det være flere innleverere til auksjonen. Objekter merket med en x bak objektnummeret er innlevert av Oslo Myntgalleri AS eller hovedaksjonærene til Oslo Myntgalleri AS.
2. Ethvert bud som blir avgitt er bindende. Budgivere må være myndige, 18 år.
3. Alle auksjonsoppdrag behandles omsorgsfullt, dog er ikke auksjonshuset ansvarlige for mulige feil eller misforståelser som skulle oppstå under auksjonen.
4. Auksjonshuset forbeholder seg retten til å avgjøre om personer får lov til å delta på auksjonen eller ikke. Videre kan auksjonshuset avvise bud, trekke tilbake, omgruppere eller dele objekter. Ved uenighet kan det bli utlyst ny budgivning for én eller flere objekter. Auksjonarius kan selv avgjøre hvem som får tilslaget på et objekt der dette er uklart.
5. Auksjonshuset forbeholder seg retten til å avvise bud fra kjøpere som er ukjente og/eller som ikke har oppgitt tilstrekkelige referanser. Utenlandske kunder og brukere av plattformen for direkte budgivning må registrere seg i god tid før auksjonen for å bli vurdert og godkjent som budgivere.
6. Oslo Myntgalleri er pliktig til å utvise nøyaktighet og aktsomhet i beskrivelsen av auksjonsobjektene. Ethvert objekt anses for autentisk og fra perioden som beskrevet hvis det ikke er gitt uttrykk for annet. Disputter vedrørende objekters ekthet vil kun bli behandlet hos The International Bureau for the Suppression of Counterfeit Coins (IBSCC), og en konklusjon fra IBSCC regnes som endelig.
7. Alle objekter selges i den tilstand som beskrevet og fremvist før auksjonsstart. Kjøperne har selv anledning til å besiktige objektene før auksjonen, og eventuelle reklamasjoner som gjelder beskrivelser, merknader og kvalitetsvurderinger, vil ikke bli akseptert etter klubbeslag. Auksjonshusets ansvar er begrenset på samme måte for de som har gitt forhåndsbud eller bud per telefon. Vurderinger gjort av en tredjepart, herunder graderingsselskaper som f.eks. NGC, PCGS og ANACS, vil ikke bli regnet som gyldig reklamasjonsgrunn etter hammerslag.
8. Graderte mynter og sedler: Vi gir ingen garantier for ekthet eller merknader på mynter og sedler som er slabbet i lukkede beholdere og gradert av en tredjepart. Dette gjelder også anmerkninger som er skjult pga. slabben som f.eks. anhengsspor, filemerker ol.
9. Alle forhåndsbud til auksjonen må gis skriftlig og være mottatt auksjonshuset i god tid før auksjonen starter. Forespørsel om budgivning på telefon aksepteres på objekter fra minimumsutrop på 5000 NOK. Avtaler om telefonbudgivning må senest gjøres siste arbeidsdag før auksjonen.
10. Budgivere som byr for andres regning er solidarisk ansvarlig for betaling av kjøpet, hvilket betyr at auksjonshuset kan forholde seg til både budgiver og tredjepart for oppgjør.
11. Alle bud gis i norske kroner og et objekt betraktes solgt til den som har høyeste bud. Ved flere identiske forhåndsbud gjelder budet som først er mottatt av auksjonshuset. I tilfeller med identiske bud fra sal og internettplattformer vil bud fra salen bli prioritert.
12. Prisene i denne katalogen er minstepriser og bud under disse vil ikke bli akseptert. I tillegg til salgssummen tilkommer 20 % salær. Mynter og sedler som har vært gyldig betalingsmiddel er unntatt mva. For medaljer tilkommer 25 % mva på salæret ved levering i Norge. Avgiftspliktige objekter er merket med * ved objektnummeret. Alle forsendelser innenlands skjer med sporbar post og belastes med minimum NOK 200, -. Alle forsendelser til utlandet sendes med DHL eller Fedex (minimumspris i Europa NOK 690,-). Kjøper kan også hente auksjonsobjekter hos auksjonshuset sine kontorer i Oslo og Haugesund. Kjøper står selv ansvarlig for å oppgi riktig adresse for fakturering og forsendelse, og auksjonshuset står ikke ansvarlig for feiladresserte forsendelser som skyldes manglende eller feilaktig informasjon fra kjøper.
13. All betaling må skje i NOK (norske kroner) og kjøpesummen må være godskrevet vår konto senest 7 dager etter at faktura er utstedt. Ved forsinket betaling påløper 1 % rente pr. påbegynt måned. Hvis betaling ikke er godskrevet auksjonshusets konto innen 30 dager etter at auksjonen er avholdt, kan auksjonsobjektet selges for kjøpers regning og risiko. Auksjonshuset bestemmer alene på hvilken måte slikt salg gjennomføres og uten videre meddelelse til den opprinnelige kjøper. Opprinnelig kjøper står derfor selv ansvarlig for ethvert økonomisk tap, herunder tapt provisjon og redusert salgspris. Eventuelle omkostninger i forbindelse med inkasso og videresalg blir også belastet den opprinnelige kjøper.
14. Ved vederlag i kontanter kan vi kun motta beløp inntil kr 20.000 per kunde, jf. Hvitvaskingsloven § 4a.
15. Risikoen for kjøpet går over til kjøper ved klubbeslag, dog går ikke eiendomsretten over til kjøper før kjøpesummen er betalt i sin helhet. Auksjonshuset er ansvarlig for at objektene oppbevares på forsvarlig måte inntil de er fysisk overlevert til kjøper eller fraktfirma. Alle forsendelser skjer på kjøpers regning og risiko, og kjøper må selv sørge for forsikring av forsendelsen. Auksjonshuset er ikke ansvarlig for sendinger sittende fast hos utenlandsk tollvesen, pga. lokale tollregler. Det samme gjelder for sendinger som er nektet mottatt av kjøper. Oslo Myntgalleri påtar seg ikke ansvar for tvister knyttet til importbestemmelser og -restriksjoner i andre land. Vi anbefaler kunder å sette seg inn i lokale importregler før de legger inn bud på våre auksjoner.
16. Alle norske mynter preget før 1538, med enkelte unntak, vil ikke kunne eksporteres ut av landet. For budgivere som byr online vil aktuelle objekter med denne restriksjonen være merket.
17. Innleverere får utbetalt hammerslag fratrullet selgerprovisjon cirka 4-6 uker etter auksjonsslutt.
18. Hvis det til tross for dette reglementet skulle reises innsigelser mot auksjonshuset eller innleverer, må slikt gjøres innen 14 dager etter at objektet er utlevert eller mottatt via post. Innsigelser kan ikke gjøres dersom objektet ikke er betalt innen 30 dager etter auksjonsdato.
19. Oslo vedtas som verneting for alle tvister som måtte utspille seg fra denne auksjonen eller dette reglementet.
20. Auksjonshuset tar forbehold om at det kan bli foretatt endringer av auksjonsreglementet mellom auksjonene.

Dyrrhachion (present day Durrës in Albania) was founded by Greek colonists around 626 BC. It is also known as Epidamos and has a turbulent and partially unknown history. In 314 BC the city was conquered by Kassander, but he was thrown out by the Greeks from Korkyra (Korfu) who preferred to «lease» the city to the King of an Illyrian tribe, the Taulanti, and this coin were made under the Illyrian kings. Similar patterns are found on other Illyrian and Korkyrian staters, but those attributable to Dyrrhachion are rare. Later in the 3rd century BC, the city became an important port for the Romans entering the Greek mainland during the Illyrian wars, ending in 146 BC. Later it should be known as a stronghold for Pompey in his fight against Caesar, and for Brutus after the murder of Caesar. Augustus made the city into a Roman colony and granted the surrounding land to war veterans from Actium.

Kroisos was the mighty ruler of Lydia, a region that today is a part of western Türkiye. He ruled the kingdom from 560 until 546 BC when Lydia was conquered by the Persian Empire. Kroisos is known to be the first king to strike coins of pure gold and silver. He is also said to have been the greatest and richest king of Lydia and was probably the richest man of his time. Today we still use the expression "rich as Kroisos" for incredibly wealthy people. Kroisos inherited a coinage system purely based on the alloy of electrum, but during his reign, the Lydians invented an innovative process to refine gold and silver which paved the way for a new system of bi-metallic coinage. The first gold staters were struck around 550 BC and on a heavy weight standard of about 10,7 grams. However, the heavy standard was soon replaced by a lighter standard of staters weighing 8,05 grams. The reason for a rapid change of the weight standard is unknown today. The most accepted theory states that weight was reduced in order correspond with the gold content of the electrum coins that still circulated alongside with those of pure gold. The lighter gold 1/3 stater (trite) has nearly the same gold content as the common 1/3 staters of electrum. If Kroisos wanted to replace the electrum coins with pure gold, it would have been crucial for the gold coins to have the same gold content as the electrum coins. If not, he would lose an enormous amount of money on the redemption program. The gold staters of Kroisos are true pieces of art and display the confronting lion and bull symbolizing both strength and virility.

Seleukos was an important commander of the Macedonian elite infantry, the hypaspistai, under king Alexander III (the great) of Macedon. After the death of Alexander in 323 BC, Seleukos was initially a secondary player during the bloody wars of the Diadochi, the successors of Alexander's empire. However, with help from Ptolemy I of Egypt, Seleukos managed to secure the vast areas of Syria, Persia, Bactria, and northwestern India for himself. Seleukos declared himself Basileos (king) over the lands he now controlled and successfully established a long-lasting dynasty of kings ruling the Seleukid Empire. Seleukos' possessions in Gandhara and India were soon contested by emperor Chandragupta Maurya of India, and a war broke out in 305 BC. The conflict was resolved with a peace treaty in 303 BC, allowing the Maurya Empire to annex the eastern satrapies. In return, Seleukos received 500 war elephants (of both sexes), a considerable military force at that time. This remarkable tetradrachm showing an elephant quadriga on the reverse might be a celebration of this event. The coin was struck in Seleukeia on the Tigris (in today Iraq), a city founded by Seleukos himself in 305 BC.

Cleopatra VII Philopator Thea Neotera (father-loving new goddess) was the last Ptolemaic ruler of Egypt. She was born in 69 BC and inherited the throne after her father Ptolemy XII in 51 BC. She ruled together with her younger brother Ptolemy XIII until 48 BC when she was exiled after a scheme orchestrated by her brother's courtiers. She managed to restore her power shortly after with the help of the Roman general Julius Caesar. The two became lovers and the relationship resulted in the birth of a son, Caesarion. Cleopatra later joined Caesar in Rome and was most like in the city when Caesar was murdered on March 15, 44 BC.

Cleopatra went back to Alexandria after the loss of Caesar but was soon to be charmed by another powerful Roman when she was introduced to the triumvir Marcus Antonius at Tarsus in 41 BC. They immediately fell in love, and within a year, Cleopatra had given birth to twins, a boy, and a girl. The relationship between Antonius and a foreign queen was seen scandalous back in Rome. Octavian, Antonius' partner in power, was furious and their uneasy alliance grew into a bitter rivalry where both sought to become the undisputed master of the Roman world. Cleopatra supported Antonius' military campaigns in Parthia and Armenia in the east. The latter campaign was a success and was celebrated with a huge "Roman style" triumph back in Alexandria in 34 BC. Antony even bestowed most of Rome's eastern possessions upon Cleopatra and her children. The tension between Antonius and Octavian was already strong but this unspeakable act of betrayal made Octavian declare war on Cleopatra and Antony.

The war culminated in the battle at Actium in 31 BC where Octavian won a decisive victory against the mighty fleet of Cleopatra and Antonius thanks to his brilliant naval commanders. Cleopatra and Marcus Antonius fled back Alexandria but was caught up by Octavian a year later. When defeat was imminent, they both choose death instead being captured and paraded through Rome in humiliation. Antonius stabbed himself with his sword and Cleopatra followed three days later with a self-inflicted bite from a venomous asp. Her death ended nearly 300 years of Ptolemaic rule in Egypt that now came under Roman control.

Cleopatra struck several coins bearing her name and portrait, and this wonderful denarius is believed to have been struck at Alexandria in 34 BC. This issue, bearing the dual portraits of Cleopatra and Antonius, is likely tied to Antonius' triumph in Alexandria and his "donations" of the eastern Roman provinces to the queen of Egypt. We do not know if it is Cleopatra or Antonius that is depicted on the obverse of this coin.

This portrait of Jesus Christ is the earliest known depiction on a coin and was issued during the first reign of Justinian II (AD 685-695). The solidus displays an image of Christ with long straight hair and beard. During his second reign (AD 705-711), the image of Christ became strikingly different, featuring a short curly hair and beard. There has been a long debate on which of the two images that has the closest resemblance to Christ. While scholars seem to favor the second issue, the image of Jesus Christ with long smooth hair and beard has been embraced by most Christian communities around the world.

This important issue represents the earliest stage in the development of the later thaler coinage, struck under Sigismund, Archduke of Austria (1446–1490), later known as «der Münzreiche» for his extensive coinage. At a time when expanding trade created demand for high-value coins, and supported by the rich silver output of the Schwaz mines, Sigismund introduced large silver pieces equal in value to the widely used goldgulden. The full guldiners of 1486 mark a decisive step toward a new type of large silver coin, produced at the innovative mint in Hall. These impressive issues are regarded as the first crown-sized silver coins in Europe and stand at the beginning of the later thaler coinage, whose name only emerged in the early 16th century. As such, they mark the transition from medieval to modern coinage.

The thalers struck by the Counts Schlick at Joachimsthal rank among the most influential coinages in monetary history. Beginning in the early 16th century, these large silver coins derived their name from the mining town of St. Joachimsthal, where rich silver deposits enabled their production. The depiction of Saint Joachim on the coins reflects this origin in a clear and deliberate way. From «Joachimsthaler», the name was soon shortened to «thaler», a term that spread widely and ultimately gave rise to the word «dollar». Even beyond the German-speaking world, the name left its mark, as in Russia, where «Jefimok» was derived from «Joachim», illustrating the far-reaching influence of this coinage.

This intriguing issue belongs to the remarkable St. Peter coinage of Viking York, struck under the Norse ruler Sihtric Cæch at a time when different cultures met across the Irish Sea. By invoking Saint Peter – the patron saint of York – while at the same time using a bold Viking symbol such as a hammer or sword, the type presents a carefully balanced message that would have spoken to both Christian and Norse viewers. It reflects a ruling elite finding its way between older traditions and the growing importance of Christianity. In this later phase of the series, the message remains, but the words themselves have faded: the once clear SCI PETRI legend has been copied so often that it survives only as a pattern, no longer fully understood. The coin thus offers a vivid glimpse of the Norse diaspora in Britain, where familiar forms were preserved even as their original meaning was gradually lost.

The hardi d'or was introduced in 1368 under Edward the Black Prince in preparation for renewed conflict with France. The design notably emphasizes the sword, reflecting the prince's military reputation. The reverse legend, «My strength comes from the Lord», appears in several variations, as coinage from the Aquitaine mints was struck to finance the war effort.

This issue represents the largest gold denomination struck under Henry VIII. The lis mintmark was employed at the Tower during the Second Coinage, to which the present specimen belongs. Owing to its considerable face value, such pieces were confined largely to high-level circulation and served as a visible expression of royal authority. In the course of the 1530s, Henry's financial position deteriorated, and his growing demand for gold culminated in the Dissolution of the Monasteries, whereby substantial quantities of precious metal were appropriated – likely forming the basis for issues of this kind. Only very few examples of these early gold coins have survived.

Oliver Cromwell (1599–1658) was the leading figure of the English Civil War and served as Lord Protector from 1653 until his death. Following the execution of Charles I, he governed England as a republican head of state during the Commonwealth. His rule marks a unique period in English history, when the monarchy was temporarily replaced by a protectorate.

Issued early in Queen Victoria's reign, the Gothic Crown was conceived as a prestige issue emphasizing royal legitimacy and continuity through medieval-inspired imagery. Its Gothic design reflects the contemporary Romantic revival and marks the coin as a ceremonial, non-circulating piece rather than everyday currency.

This coin type represents the first true «international currency» of the Middle Ages. Vikings brought them north in vast quantities, both as tribute and as trade currency. As the legends – like in the previously mentioned examples from Roskilde or Dublin – often became blundered or degenerated, they served as direct prototypes for the earliest indigenous coinages of the Scandinavian kings.
